A NEWSPAPERMAN'S VIEWS

He Talks Tonopah And His Impressions Formed There
Douglas White, for some time in charge of the circulation of the Examiner, later on business manager of the Los Angeles Herald, correspondent for the New York Journal during the Spanish war, and now with Harper's Weekly, departs for the east today.
In about six weeks his paper will issue a special Nevada edition, copiously illustrated, and replete with interesting and instructive reading matter concerning the sagebrush state.
"While in Tonopah," said Mr. White yesterday to The Journal, "I was well received and entertained, and received far more encouragement in a business way than I had expected."
"Tonopah is certainly a lively and promising camp, and while there I was wonderfully surprised at the tremendous amount of ore on the dumps. When they have water there and the reduction works are built, it will undoubtedly prove another Comstock."
"It will differ from those good old days, though, in one particular. The people there are mostly Nevadans and most of the millions which will be taken out of there will be invested in Nevada rather than taken to California and Paris, as was done by the millionaires who were made in Virginia City."
Lambing Time Approaches
The sheep men of the state are making extensive preparations for lambing and present indications point to a very successful season.

THE INDIAN ON WARPATH

Several Oil Proectors Fired Upon by Irate Redskins.

Special to The Journal:
SAN BERNARDINO, March 12.—An Indian uprising of no mean proportions has occurred on the Martinez reservation, in Riverside county, as the result of party of oil locators posting notices on Indian lands in their effort to secure certain sections upon which to drill for oil. The Indians discovered the notices on Wednesday, and late last night seventy armed bucks surrounded the locators' camp. Several volleys were fired toward the camp. This scared the whites, who broke for the mountains, pursued by the yelling savages, who chased them for several miles. The excitement has spread to the whole tribe, numbering three hundred and they want to fight.

WRECKED IN ALASKAN WATERS

Three Men Perish By the Sinking of the Sloop Mariana, Off the Coast of Alaska
Special to The Journal:
VANCOUVER, March 12.—The schooner Princess May, which arrived from Skagway and Juneau brings word of the wreck of the Juneau sloop Mariana in Alaskan waters. The vessel struck a rock on her way from Killisnoo to Heonah. The craft was being worked by two women and three men. The women were put ashore and the men returned to the sloop to await the high tide. The sloop sank during the night and all three of the men perished. They were James Gordon, Grant Kadock and John Teenduo.

DEFEAT OF RECIPROCITY

It is Stated That Congress Will Be Called in Extraordinary Session This Fall to Straighten Matters
Special to The Journal.
WASHINGTON, March 12.—The action of the senate committee in amending the Cuban treaty so that action by the house is required to render an agreement effective ensures the practical defeat of the reciprocity scheme. The house can hardly act on the matter in time to render a treaty effective this year. It is reported that congress will be called in extra session in the fall to attend to this matter.

RICHMOND, March 12.—This is the date set for the debate between the chosen representatives of Butler university and Earlham College, the contest to take place tonight at the last named institution. Recent Happenings on the Greatest Camp on Earth

Reduction Works—E. R. Miller, vice-president of the Tonopah Company, who has been in Tonopah for several weeks looking after the affairs of the company, left recently by private conveyance for the railroad, en route to San Francisco, where he will spend a few days and then proceed to Philadelphia. Mr. Miller talked quite freely with a representative of the Miner just before his departure about the plans of the company, and while he was not at liberty to give details, he stated that the people of Tonopah can rest assured that in the very near future some big things will be doing on the hill. It can be stated with confidence that when the improvements now projected are completed Tonopah will have the largest and most perfect reduction works ever erected by a mining company to handle its own ores.

Miners' Union—At the meeting of the Miners' Union Tuesday evening the following named officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, W. F. Kilker; vice-president, W. D. Tomlinson; recording secretary, R. H. Daisell; financial secretary, Ed Hinch; treasurer, Jo. Donnelly; wardens, A. McMillan and A. J. Vance; conductor, G. H. Clack; finance committee, Carl Erickson, Adolph Smith and F. McPherson. The union is in a flourishing condition, and the present membership is about four hundred.

Late Arrivals—L. H. Rogers of Reno and Wm. B. Jackson of New York, who are making a tour of inspection in the interest of the Twin Rivers Water Company, are in Tonopah. Mr. Rogers is the general manager of the company and Mr. Jackson is the engineer for J. G. White & Co., of New York, who have the contract for constructing the power plant of the company at Twin Rivers for the transmission of electric power to Tonopah. It is the intention of the company to push the work on the power plant with the utmost expedition, and as soon as Mr. Jackson submits his plans to the contractors the material will be shipped to Twin Rivers and installed.

Hannapah Strike—The sensation of the week in mining circles is the great strike in the Newhouse property at Hannapah, eighteen miles east of Tonopah. Superintendent Frank B. Work, who was in town Wednesday, gave the Miner the particulars of the new strike. In crosscutting from the 152-foot level the foot-wall was cut three feet from the shaft, and the hanging wall was encountered twenty-eight feet farther along, showing up a vein fully twenty-five feet in width. Along the foot-wall there are a number of small streaks of quartz carrying fair values, and the first fifteen feet of the vein is composed of good milling material. But last week the drift cut a ten-foot body of bluish talc filled with boulders, lying against the hanging-wall. The talc assays about 60 ounces in silver and the boulders carry from 200 to 300 ounces of silver, with gold values which bring the entire ten feet close up to the $100 mark. The hanging wall is the blue lode porphyry of the Tonopah district, identical with that found in the Mizpah and adjoining claims. The ore is very fine quartz carrying heavy iron sulphides associated with large crystals of ruby silver, and flakes of native silver are scattered all through it. Assays show that about one-fourth of the values are gold. A crosscut is being run to cut a parallel vein about twenty-five feet from the one just opened up. All the indications point to the opening up in the Newhouse property at a very early date of one of the biggest and richest bodies of ore ever discovered, and the fortunate holders of the stock are jubilant. A. J. Bettles of Salt Lake, vice-president of the company and general manager for Newhouse, will visit Hannapah about the middle of the month, and as soon as he shall have made an examination of the property it is likely that big things will be doing at the new camp.

Editor Dunham Takes a Pall Out of Tonopah's Troublers

The state press continues to disseminate misinformation about Tonopah. The most recent outrage perpetrated on this community by the "knockers" is a comparison of Searchlight with Tonopah which is now going the rounds, says the Tonopah Miner, of our inaccurate contemporaries, and from which we quote the following:

"So far as the State of Nevada goes attention is pretty fairly divided between Tonopah, in the central portion of the state, and Searchlight, in the southern portion of it. There is, however, one great difference between the two camps. While the ore of Tonopah carries some proportion of gold, it is essentially a silver camp, while Searchlight is a gold one, the ore, taking the camp all through, showing higher averages in gold values than have been allotted to most mining camps yet discovered. And moreover, the ore bodies are not streaky; the lodes are, as a rule of good width, with values from wall to wall."

This lie might as well be nailed now as to wait until it develops into an accepted fact. Tonopah is not "essentially a silver camp," although it is producing more silver than all the rest of the state. The ores of the Mizpah group below the 300 foot level all carry gold values in excess of 50 per cent of the gross values. A conservative estimate of the ore in sight in the Tonopah Company's mines places it at 800,000 tons, and this enormous body of ore will average more than $100 a ton—a total of more than $80,000,000 in sight. More than half of this product will be gold. The same statement is true of the Montana-Tonopah and other mines in the vicinity. The ores of the Gold Mountain mines are almost entirely gold, carrying but a small percentage of silver. Tonopah is the greatest silver camp in the world; but it can run all its silver into the slag pile and still remain the greatest mining camp in the world—on a gold basis!

PREPARING FOR THE RUSH

A Local Capitalist To Erect An Apartment House

Harry Stewart has called for bids to erect a modern apartment house on the corner of Second and West streets, which when completed will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. As soon as his intentions were announced he was besieged with applications for quarters. The town is full of strangers who are tired walking their legs off in quest of rooms, and there is no doubt but that other local capitalists will take a cue from Mr. Stewart's enterprise and follow his example.

If Reno is going to grow—and it is admitted by all that it will—there must be some provision made for the comfortable housing of strangers who will arrive from now on. No matter how comfortable they may be made at hotels—and Reno has as good hostels as can be found on the coast—families must have housekeeping accommodations.

Tonopah People Jubilant

The people of Tonopah are pleased and their good fortune will be shared by Reno.

HIS LIFE DESPAIRED OF

Garfield Doane Operated On Again At Sacramento Yesterday

It is reported that Garfield Doane, who was injured by falling from a box car in the yards at Sacramento some time ago, is in a precarious condition, and is feared that the end will come inside of a few days.

The unfortunate fellow has been operated upon for his injuries three times. On the first occasion his leg was amputated below the knee, and on the second occasion was cut off again close to the hip.

Yesterday his shoulder bone was cut out and as pyemia has set in, and cannot be checked it is feared that his life cannot be spared. Mr. Doane is well known in Reno, and his friends will be pained to learn of his sad predicament.

Willing But Handicapped

The state rate of taxation has not, as yet, been fixed by the legislature, and as a result the county assessor cannot commence the year's work. He is prepared, however, to begin, so soon as the state solons give him the necessary basis upon which to hold people up.

In the near future the pupils of the high school and the preparatory department of the university will engage in a debate taking for their subject: "Resolved, that the negro shall receive industrial rather than liberal education."

THE PUPILS PLEASED

The High School Visit to Carson Was Enjoyed.

The Reno high school, chaperoned by Superintendent Bray, Miss Schadler and Miss Blum and Mr. Brandon, spent Thursday in the capital city, viewing the work of the assembly and senate, visiting the state prison and the public schools.

They were courteously received everywhere and were shown many attentions.

Mrs. Governor Sparks met them at the train upon their arrival in Carson City and invited the students and teachers, through Superintendent Bray, to an informal reception at her parlors in the Arlington, at from 12:30 to 1:30. Of course this was accepted and a most pleasant hour was spent with Mrs. Sparks, during which delicious ice cream and cake were served in abundance. Governor and Mrs. Sparks were voted "just right."

The visit to the legislature enabled the students to see practically how laws are made. Governor Sparks signed a bill in his office, thus making it a law, in the presence of the students. Senators Roff and Jackson and Assemblymen McCarran, Graham, and others, extended courtesies to the visitors.

Warden Considine, an old Virginia pupil of Superintendent Bray, hired carriages and busses, at his own expense, and took some 50 or more out to the prison and showed them all through it, explaining many things of interest to them. He afterwards landed them back safely at the Briggs House.

This courteous and generous act was highly appreciated by all, and the warden and his obliging officials were given many thanks and cheers.

The day was well and profitably spent, the pupils having had a royally good time and having learned more, doubtless, than they would have learned from books in a week. "Seeing is worth more than mere learning about."

NOT DEAD BUT SLEEPING

Reno's Marriage Business Is Only Temporarily Stalled

"Say," said Mr. Sadler, of the Overland hotel, last evening, "the divorce and marriage business is getting interesting, so far as Nevada is concerned."

"What are you referring to?" rejoined the scribe, who happened to be single, and happy, having never mixed up either with a marriage license or any other kind of trouble in his life.

"Why, you know," continued Mr. Sadler, "for some time a law has been operative in California that divorced people could not again remarry in the state within a year of the separation, and as a result, all of the old stayers down there have been coming up to Reno to take another chance at the matrimonial game."

"I see the other day California again put the hooks to Nevada's important industry by enacting a statute providing for the withholding of the entries of degrees for one year during which period the case can be reopened by either party. According to this new departure it will take twelve months after freedom before the divorce becomes operative, so for a time at least, our wedding trade is off."

"However, I suppose the plaintiffs will hereafter save time—which is too often the essence of all divorce cases—and come up to Reno, gain a residence in Nevada, cut loose and tie up again. For a while there will be a lull while the residence is being secured and then Cupid will strut around with his tin whistle as of yore."

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Coroner's Jury In Brinzo Case Renders Its Verdict

The coroner's jury summoned in the case of the death of Victor Brinzo rendered a verdict as follows:

"We find the deceased is named Victor Brinzo, that he was a native of Italy, aged about 31 years, that he came to his death on or about the 9th day of March, 1903, in this county from knife wounds inflicted with a knife on the 6th day of March, 1903, by Billy Dondoro."

Yesterday's Journal stated that Dondoro was released on a bail of $5000 "by Judge Currier." This was an error. The proceedings in the case seem to have been slightly irregular to say the least.

Dondoro was arrested on a charge of murder and before his preliminary examination, on the recommendation of District Attorney Pike, was admitted to bail. The case, so we are informed, did not come up to Judge Currier.

THE STOCK CONDITIONS

Weekly Market Letter by A. J. Condon Co., Brokers.

Tonopah has been sufficiently developed now to assure an output of one hundred million dollars.

Stocks on this market have remained stationary during the past week with one or two exceptions. Montana-Tonopah shows a slight decline having sold at 95c at the beginning of the week, but dropping to 87 1-2c at which price it is selling at the present time. This company have a large body of high grade ore in their shaft, and the only reason we can offer for the stock selling so low is the fact that there is so much of this stock out in weak hands, and as soon as this stock is bought up by stronger people we expect this stock to advance to two or three dollars per share.

The Ray & O'Brien Co. have encountered good pay ore in their shaft at Ray, and their stock has advanced from 25c to 40c per share at which price it can be had at the present time.

The Rescue Mining Company are about to install a new hoist, and their stock is now selling at 30c per share on the exchange here.

Midway is being held firm at 50c, and there is very little of this stock offered for sale even at that figure.

Silver Top is offered at 75c with 50c bid. McNamara is quoted at $1.25 asked and 75c bid.

Several thousand shares of Great Western changed hands during the past week at 15c, and the same closed at 16c asked, and 15c bid; $2 is asked for Halifax, with no takers.

Gold Crown is quoted at 60c with 50c bid.

Tonopah Gold Mountain is offered at 75c.

Colehan is held at 40c, with very little offered at this price.

Owing to recent strikes at Gold Mountain all stocks in that district are commanding better prices. The Gold Mountain Company are drifting as fast as possible for the main body of ore, which they expect to strike within the next thirty feet.

The Colehan Company are sinking at the rate of between three and four feet per day, and are working two shifts.

The Lucky Tom Company are about to commence active work on their claims at Gold Mountain, which adjoin the Colehan Mining Company's property.

The Tonopah Union is down about 160 feet, and is in high grade ore. None of the latter company's stock is for sale at any price. The parties owning the Bennett group of claims, and also the parties owning the Hasbrook claims at Gold Mountain have received handsome offers for their claims, but have refused the same.

The shaft of the Great Western has gained a depth of 160 feet, and has encountered some quite promising stringers. At the 630 foot level the sinking of the New York Tonopah shaft continues most vigorously.

TO MEET COMPETITION

Southern Pacific Sending Rails Down to Near Mojave

The Southern Pacific is evidently preparing to meet the competition of Senator Clark's road between Los Angeles and Salt Lake, for it is shipping the heavy rails that it is taking up on its main Central Pacific line down to a place near Mojave.

Some time ago the Southern Pacific bought D. O. Mills' Carson and Colorado line, which did not have any particularly noteworthy starting point or terminus, and over which trains were run spasmodically. It had, however, a valuable right of way as far south as Keeler and so only from ninety to one hundred miles from Mojave. The intention of the Southern Pacific is to build northeast from Mound House to Wadsworth or some other convenient point on the Central Pacific main line and in a southwesterly direction toward Mojave. The rails that are now being taken up on the Central Pacific main line are in very good condition and will be quite heavy enough for many years to come for all the traffic that may be expected over the Los Angeles-Salt Lake cutoff. The saving in distance by way of the cutoff will amount to several hundred miles. The cutoff will be the third side of a triangle of which the other two sides would be the road from Wadsworth to this city and the line from San Francisco to Los Angeles.

A GOOD PIECE OF WORK

THE passage of the Miller-Graham bill through both houses of the legislature was a good piece of work and well done. Senator Miller of Lander, and Assemblyman Graham of this county almost simultaneously introduced bills in their respective houses each bill having the same object in view, namely, the reduction of the tax rate, although differing slightly in matters of detail. The Miller bill having passed the senate went over to the assembly, where, in order to expedite the matter and prevent complications from arising which might defeat the legislation entirely, Mr. Graham promptly accepted the Miller bill, in lieu of his own. In this he did wisely and well, for delay might have meant defeat, and it was most important that some such legislation should be enacted into law.

This measure essentially the "Newlands plan," providing for a gradual annual reduction of the county tax rate until a minimum of fifty cents on the one hundred dollars of assessed valuation is reached, is something of an experiment in taxation and the working of the law will be watched with keen interest. As heretofore explained in these columns, the purpose is by reducing the rate of taxation and fixing it at an arbitrary limit, to force up the assessed valuation of property to approximately its real value, in order that would-be investors from abroad may not be deterred by what appears to them to be excessive taxation.

The fact should never be lost sight of that when a man contemplates investing money in a certain locality, one of his first inquiries is as to the tax rate. To an Eastern capitalist three or four per cent taxes seem almost prohibitory of an investment in this State. Nothing but the most promising mining venture will lure him into a field where he must, as it appears to him, pay taxes that are equal to the interest rates in the east. When told that the low assessment of the property will serve as an offset, and bring the actual tax down to a reasonable figure, he takes the statement with much of incredulity. He knows what the tax rate is but he does not know what valuation the assessor may place upon the property.

BUILDING BATTLESHIPS

IN this country there is far less opposition to a large navy than to a great increase of the army. The feeling is quite general that a great navy is not so serious a menace to the liberties of the country as is a correspondingly powerful land force, and undoubtedly this feeling is well founded. As a rule Americans believe that a large army is wholly unnecessary because of our geographical position, while they are prepared to concede, that we should be strong enough on sea to protect every maritime interest.

But these feelings and concessions are altogether general. How large a navy should we have? What constitutes a powerful navy in this day and generation? There is no way of answering these questions definitely because the question of naval power is relative. A navy is strong or weak, not in the absolute sense, but compared with other navies. Compared with that of Mexico our present naval strength is perfectly gigantic, compared with the sea power of England ours is puny.

The last congress, we believe, authorized the construction of five powerful battleships. Advice from London state that the British naval estimates for the current year call for one hundred and eighty million dollars, and that there are now in British yards under construction, thirty battleships. Among all the great maritime powers there is the keen rivalry in the building of warships both as to number and efficiency. The query naturally arises where is the thing to stop? Is there any limit, except that of a nation's resources?

As we have greater wealth and resources than any other country we can of course, build more battleships than any other if we want to. But do we want to? Is there any sense or any civilization in such a rivalry? Think of it! In a time of profound peace, England proposes to put one hundred and eighty million dollars into her navy in a single year, and the end of the chapter nowhere in sight. Such figures are simply appalling, and should suggest to a statesman's mind the monstrous and barbarous nature of the rivalry which is now going on in the matter of building battleships.

WILL CHANCE HIS HUNTING SYSTEM

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT is not going to be accompanied by a horde of reporters when he next goes into the mountains with murderous intent upon bears and other wild beasts. When he takes a ticket for the west at the discretion of the session of the senate, to encounter the grizzly, mountain lion, coyote, jack rabbit and other ferocious animals, he doesn't propose to have reporters camped all about him. The stories that the army of reporters have sent out in the past have made the wildest dime novel stand as mild and comely as a Carson News editorial. But the scheme of the President promises well and the news is not as apt to be frightened as when expected to an army of kodak handlers and pencil slingers. The President proposes to syndicate himself. He will have one chief reporter who will be supplied with material from which, unless he is utterly devoid of imagination, he can construct tales which will easily rivaled those of Daniel Boone, Davy Crockett, or even Sam Davis. These stories are to be distributed to the papers, probably free of charge. If the plan pleases the newspapers it will result in reducing the size of the President's hunting party, and give him an opportunity perhaps to occasionally catch sight of game. Grizzlies and mountain lions don't care much for newspaper notoriety and when the President, accompanied by a half hundred jovial journalists has appeared in the woods, these modest creatures have made for the dark canyons and deep jungles.

THE DINGLEY LAW AND IMPORTS

THE San Francisco Chronicle has made another great discovery in favor of the Dingley tariff. This is that it increases imports by making the nation prosperous and able to buy. The logic of the proposition is that the more goods we shut out of the country the more will be brought into it. The Wilson law was accused of letting foreign goods into the country, and the Dingley law was enacted for the purpose of keeping such goods out. Now we are told that the Dingley law lets in more goods than the Wilson law did.

No doubt under like conditions the more prosperous a country is the more it will buy of other countries, but to say that a law which is enacted for the express purpose of raising a barrier against imports will, per se, increase imports is absurd. Equally absurd is it to claim that the Dingley law is the cause of such prosperity as now exists. During recent years there has been a very general revival of prosperity all through Europe, and no country there has felt the impulse more strongly than has free trade England.

If the Dingley law by making us prosperous has increased our imports, how comes it that the United Kingdom with only a little more than one-half our accumulated wealth imports about twice as many goods as we do? If the prosperity of a nation is to be measured by its imports, and the Chronicle seems to think that it is, then England must be more prosperous than the United States. Republican tariff "argument" in this day and generation certainly presents some funny phases.

A BAD DAY'S WORK

THE senate on Wednesday defeated the resolution submitting the question of a call for a constitutional convention to a vote of the people. In other words they set their opinion against that of a vast majority of the voters of Nevada and virtually declared that they, the voters, were not capable of deciding the matter for themselves, and that they made asses of themselves when they twice demanded by overwhelming majorities, through the ballot box a convention for the revision of our fundamental law. They also in effect declared the referendum, which was unanimously indorsed by the Democratic and Silver party State conventions, a snare and delusion, a humbug and a fraud. The vote stood 9 to 5 against the resolution with three absentees. As soon as a copy of the roll call can be procured The Journal will publish it for the information of its readers.

IN accordance with the call of the President the senate is in extra session. Threats of such action have been frequent and numerous in the past, but then as now have failed to accomplish their object. Senators intend to have their own way and cannot be prevented under the rules of the upper house. It is well that the privilege of unlimited debate is preserved there since the house has become a mere machine and has completely surrendered its authority. It may be annoying to have the senate waste time and kill bills and treaties, but there is a degree of safety in its possession of the power to do so.

Miss Florence L. Lamb Married to G. M. Peacock of White Pine County

A very interesting and pretty wedding, in which Miss Florence L. Lamb of this city and George M. Peacock, of Ely, Nevada, were united in the holy bonds, took place last evening at the home of the parents of the bride. About forty intimate family friends were present at the ceremony, and contributed to make the event one of unusual happiness. The marriage was celebrated by Father Reynolds of the Catholic church at eight o'clock. General merriment was then indulged in until 10:30, when a delegation of guests escorted the bride couple to the west bound train, upon which they took their departure, amid the congratulations and well wishes of their friends, for southern California where they will spend their honeymoon.

The bride was prettily gowned in an elaborate silk dress, trimmed in applique, and carried in her hand a beautiful bouquet of orange blossoms. She was attended by Miss Etta Pixley of Verdi, and the bride's brother, W. C. Lamb, acted as best man.

Miss Lamb is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Lamb and, although a native of the State of Maine, has been raised principally here. The larger part of her education has been received in the schools of Reno and the State University. She graduated from the university some time ago, and has since been engaged in teaching, having been for the past year principal of the Ely schools in White Pine county.

Mr. Peacock is a native of Denver, Colorado. He received his education principally in California. He is an electrician by profession, being at present in the employ of the Chairman Mining Company at Ely, Nevada, as the manager of the electrical department of its works.

Upon the completion of their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Peacock will take up their residence in Ely, where Mr. Peacock will resume his duties.

A New Social Club

The "Dolphins" is the name of a new social club, the preliminary organization of which was effected in the club rooms of the Monarch saloon last Tuesday. A meeting will be held at the same place on next Thursday evening to perfect the organization, elect officers, etc. About 40 members have signed, and the new club will be launched with a dance in the near future.

Tripped the Light Fantastic

The Wheelmen band gave a well attended dance last evening, the proceeds to be devoted to the purchase of new instruments. An enjoyable time was had by all present and at the conclusion of the festivities many of the participants enjoyed a lunch at the Overland.

The Fans Will Be There

The baseball season is about to open. On next Saturday the Preparatory and Specials will play the Freshmen, the winners to play the Sophomores a week later. The incentive will be a handsome pennant, and the line up will be made up and published later.

The Lady Still Lives

The reports which have been published by the press of the state, announcing the death of Mrs. L. Goby, prove to be untrue. Her brother, W. J. Lankevin, says that she is residing at Hawthorne, alive and well.

To Improve Her Home

Mrs. S. Rosenthal is adding a second story to her residence on Ralston street, near Third. It will greatly improve the appearance of the structure, which will be an ornament to the neighborhood when finished.

STATE NEWS OF INTEREST

What the People Outside of Reno Are Doing

A tramp named Costello was mortally wounded by C. A. Malan, a Southern Pacific brakeman, at Matlin, Utah, Monday. An eastbound freight train stopped at Matlin and Conductor Anderson and Brakemen Malan and Stevenson ejected twenty-five hobos from the train. The conductor then returned to the caboose, and one of the tramps named Costello pulled a revolver and ordered the brakeman to throw up his hands. They obeyed, but after some argument Costello began shooting at them, firing four shots.
Malan then drew his revolver and shot Costello twice in the abdomen. The wounded man was taken to Ogden.
He will die. Malan surrendered himself.

"Diamondfield" Jack Davis strayed into Tonopah a few weeks ago, and with some friends built on and fenced some of the best lots in town claimed by a man who is almost universally disliked, but who is at present in San Francisco. Everyone is waiting for his return and expect to see a circus.

The trustees have decided on an eastern vacation of one week for the Winnemucca public school. The vacation will begin two weeks from next Monday.

It is expected that the railroad will be running on its new line leaving out Wadsworth about the first of June.

The coming session of the United States Court at Carson promises to be an unusually long one. It is more than likely that in the years to come Tonopah alone will furnish enough litigation to keep the court pretty busy.

The district attorney of Elko county has appointed Professor Calne, principal of the public school at that place, deputy county superintendent of schools.

Next Sunday will be the last day when wild ducks and geese can be legally killed.

A Salt Lake dispatch of the 9th says:
It was learned today that the engineers in charge of the construction of the immense trestle across an arm of the Great Salt Lake which, when completed is to be used as a cut-off by the Southern Pacific Company, are experiencing great difficulty in their work. Several days ago a stretch of track sank to the level of the lake, and yesterday fully two hundred feet of the trestle disappeared beneath the water.

But the Burro Objected
The old accustomed smile has returned to the face of the prospector.
The weather has softened, the snow is melting, and the old fellows are gathering their beans and sow belly, preparatory to starting out again, as is their yearly custom, in search of something they have not lost. The burro is scarce. He, too, has noted the change in climatic conditions, but he would sooner forage for tin cans than gold.

They Are Getting Hot Feet
The university track team is in training and the members are feeling in fine fettle. Before the season is over it would not be astonishing to see several coast records smashed to smithereens.

MINING NEWS OF INTEREST

Gathered from Doings of the Camps Here- about

The Pilot Knob mines were started up recently with a force of 15 men, under the management of Frank Paul,
and more men will be put on as rapidly as development justifies.

Milo Wilkerson, in writing from To-nopah to a Carson friend, says that the ore coming out of the shaft of the Montana-Tonopah is apparently richer than that found in the original Mizpah.

Eighteen men are now employed in the Douglas Mine & Smelter company's property, and the work being done shows ore in every crosscut, drift, winze and upraise; also the face of the tunnel, in some 300 feet.

The White Pine News announces that the McKinley Mining Company has made the first payment of $2500 on the Aurora group of five claims, which adjoins the Saxton on the west.
These claims are the property of W.
B. Graham, J. B. Williamson and T.
Rockhill, by whom they have been held for the past ten years. The conditions of the sale have not been given out.

The Tule River Placer Mining Company was organized yesterday in Tonopah. Water to hydraulic the ground will be piped a distance of 16 miles.

Investigate Moore Process

There is every probability that the Dexter company will resume operations again during the coming month and there is also reason to believe that some new departures will be introduced in the milling plant. O. E.
Lee, the company's managing director, is now on the ground with experts and it is said that the manager is investigating very closely the operation of the Moore process of treating silmes.

It is working splendidly at the Consolidated Mercur plant and if it will handle the silver values as well, or anything like as well, as it does the gold, the company may be induced to install it at Tuscarora. It is not thought that the introduction of the Moore process would be very expensive, while the saving would result in the making of a vast difference in the total of values.—Salt Lake Herald.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

A New Firm, With New Goods, Opens
Its Doors

The W-B Grocery, at 316 North Virginia Street, will open up today for business.

The firm, which consists of Messrs.
Wilson & Banta, have been busy for some weeks getting things in shape and now have one of the neatest and best appointed places in the city. Everything in the store is absolutely fresh, and while they do not claim to carry the largest stock in town, they have and will keep nothing but the best and most select of everything.

Both of the proprietors are well known to old residents of Reno. Mr.
Wilson, or "Ed," as he is more familiarly known, is the manager, and has had a wide experience in the grocery business. Mr. Banta is also an experienced grocer.

The W-B Co., by fair dealing, honest goods and strict attention to business, hope to win a fair share of public patronage. The Journal wishes them every success.

All For Tonopah

The Virginia & Truckee Railroad Company will at once put on another train to handle Tonopah's freight, which has accumulated to an alarming extent. The people of the mining camp are clamoring for their goods, but so far the company has been unable to catch up, and has arranged for increased facilities so as to relieve the stagnation.

Constable Wilson in Action

Constable Wilson is a very busy man these days. He is circulating a petition to be presented to the members of the legislature, opposing assembly bill, No. 30, which provides for the changing of a constable's income from fees to a salary. It is being liberally signed, but he is being opposed, quietly of course, by the festive hobo, whose life will be much more pleasant should the salary plan carry.

A Growing Order

The Fraternal Brotherhood held a very interesting meeting last night. There were ten candidates awaiting initiation, and if the number of applications keeps up this order will soon be the largest in our growing city. They now have a membership of 197 and it is believed the roll will be increased to 200 by May 1st.

Work Commenced

A force of men are now engaged in excavating for the new Thoma block at the corner of Virginia and First streets. The two-story building which occupied the rear of the lot adjoining the alley has been raised on skids, and will be taken bodily to some other section of town.

Sorosis Sorosis

The very first requisite of a shoe is that it shall fit the foot with accuracy. Closely—but not tightly. The Sorosis shoes are made perfect fitting lasts, so that it fits the foot, just as a Paris-made glove fits the hand. A woman's shoe should always be light in weight and very flexible to the foot to enable her to walk in an easy, graceful manner.

This is one of the special charms that has made Sorosis so popular among the ladies.

Be convinced. Try a pair of Sorosis at your earliest opportunity.

Last Night's Recital

The attendance at the recital given by Mrs. Cora Hall for the benefit of the Methodist church last evening was not as large as the cause or the merit of the program warranted.

Mrs. Hall was up to her usual voice, and her renditions of the various difficult numbers called forth the warmest applause from her very appreciative audience, and she was repeatedly called on to repeat. Her rendition of Strauss' "Voices of Spring," "Slumber Sea," by Chisholm and "Daddy," by Behrend, were especially notable for showing the great range, power and expression of her beautiful voice.

Mr. Ish's violin selections showed the work of an artist and were rendered in a manner rarely heard by a Reno audience.

Miss Levy is also to be highly complimented on her excellent work at the piano, which materially added to the pleasure of the evening.

The Next Attraction

Beatty Bros. Kinetoscope Co. will be the next attraction at McKissick's Opera House on March 19th. They gave a high class exhibition in Reno last fall to a large and appreciative audience. They have added a number of new features, among which are a soloist who will sing to illustrations by the machine. The pictures will be nearly all new to a Reno audience. Do not fail to see them
